Total Computer and Miami-Dade Police Department Team Up

MELVILLE, NY, April 14, 2011: Miami-Dade PD has engaged Total Computer to provide expert-level consulting and development services for a new system to be used by its 4,500+ members in the agency. The services provided will include a vision of architecture, design, and guidance on a technological platform for a solution that encompasses a highly automated and entirely comprehensive Records Management System (RMS). The same solution will function in a mobile environment as well as on premise by using the same codebase. Another ground-breaking concept that will be implemented in the system is making it fully compatible with the Microsoft Windows Azure Cloud.

This system will be principally guided by best practices, encompassing high efficiency and next generation intelligence-led policing. To achieve this goal, the latest cutting-edge technologies from Microsoft as well as frameworks that enable a rapid application development platform will be used. Other functional elements will include the ability to interface with loosely coupled components and technologies that enable real-time information and data sharing to an unlimited number and type of abstracted systems.

Total Computer is proud and excited to begin this endeavor with Miami-Dade PD and anticipates a long lasting relationship that will continue well into the future. The entire team is embracing cutting-edge technology in every way and at every level. The innovative thinking and overall progressiveness of the MDPD IT leadership is a rarity in the industry. The IT administrators at MDPD represent the new intellect in Public Safety.
